Quadrant Catering are a joint venture partnership company between the Compass Group and the Royal Mail operating over 450 Royal Mail Restaurants.

MCR Systems (through their sister company Unique Systems) won the order to equip employee restaurants at Royal Mail sites throughout the UK with Uniwell POS terminals, Back Office and Head Office software.

A Total Solution has been provided including project management, implementation services and full after sales support.

The package provides robust machines with simple clear displays giving easy quick operation in the restaurant, and centralised control for management purposes. It performs well in busy 24 hour service locations providing a fast accurate breakdown of sales for each shift. The sales data is then automatically sent to Head Office using the POSSITE software.

Central product and price control at Head Office has dramatically reduced the on site workload, and Company Wide Reporting is providing essential analysis of the business highlighting sales mix information.
